Authorized Users

The license includes authorization of access by means of the subscribing institution's IP addresses to allow site-wide online access by authorized users via multiple connections. If a proxy server is being registered for access, the subscribing institution agrees to maintain the security of the access by authenticating authorized users before allowing use of the proxy to any remote or on-site user.

"Authorized users" are employees, faculty, staff or students officially affiliated with the subscribing institution, and authorized on-site patrons of the subscribing institution's library facilities.

Use

This license entitles authorized users to access Material Culture Review / Revue de la culture matérielle (MCR) by multiple connections, to:

- a. make one or more copies in hard copy form of the output of any search; such copies may not be sold and may not be distributed to anyone who is not an authorized user; and
- b. download search results to hard disk, provided that such data is not made available to anyone who is not an authorized user.

The downloading of an entire journal issue or complete journal volume is strictly prohibited. Automated searching or downloading, by use of scripted searches, robots, spiders, crawlers, or otherwise, is also prohibited.

Interlibrary loans and course reserves

Copies of individual articles from MCR may be made and delivered in the context of interlibrary loan. Institutional subscribers may make, by reprographic reproduction, for any person requesting to use the copy for research or private study, a copy of an article published in MCR only on condition that:

- (a) the person for whom the copy will be made has satisfied the institution that the person will not use the copy for a purpose other than research or private study; and
- (b) the person is provided with a single copy of the work.

Electronic copies of the journal are permitted for use in course reserves, provided that access to said copies expires when the course terminates.
